New Meeting Room at All Saints Church, Newborough

Burton based Construction Company, A & S Enterprises Limited have just completed alterations at All Saints Church, Newborough. A new meeting room has been created complete with a kitchen area and disabled toilet. The church font was carefully relocated to create this room at the rear of the church. This has been sensitively finished with oak panelling to match existing features. New lighting has been incorporated together with a disabled ramp to the rear and new steps to the front of the church

Several years ago All Saints Church, Newborough was left a legacy by the family of the late Rev Cyril Taylor who was vicar from 1934-39. The legacy and funding from Stafford Local Community

Fund via Tim Corbett the local councillor, The Church Charitable Settlement and contribution from Parishioners made the new meeting room, kitchen and toilet with disabled access all possible.

Staffordshire Local Community Fund is an initiative which supports communities directly through local county councillors. Each councillor has £10,000 a year to allocate to groups and organisations in their division to provide and improve locally important services and promote community pride.

Mr Brian Beck, the church warden who lives in the village has been closely involved with the project.

There is to be an official opening service at 3pm on 18th November by The Rt. Rev'd Geoff Annas, Bishop of Stafford and all are welcome. The new meeting room is to be named The Jubilee Room

Commenting on this, Andy Sulin, director of A&S Enterprises Limited said "we are delighted to have secured this contract which is our very first church project. Living in the village of Newborough myself makes this sensitive project particularly special for our family and our company".
